

Omniva awarded IPC Certification of Excellence

06-11-2023

On 6 October 2023, IPC CEO, Holger Winklbauer, handed over an IPC Certificate of Excellence in the management and processing of international priority products to Mart Mägi, CEO of Omniva for Tallin Office of Exchange and Airmail Unit which now holds a Certificate of Excellence until September 2026.

The IPC Certification of Excellence in the Management and Processing of International Priority Products has already existed for almost 25 years, becoming an essential instrument to measure the quality of the international postal service. Today, we have a total of 26 offices of exchange with a valid Certificate of Excellence.