

UPS Supply Chain Solutions Recognized As A Leader In Gartner's 2020 Magic Quadrant For Third-Party Logistics, Worldwide

23-06-2020

UPS (NYSE:UPS) today announced that its Supply Chain Solutions (SCS) unit has been named as a Leader in the 2020 Gartner Magic Quadrant for Third-Party Logistics, Worldwide report. This marks the third consecutive Gartner Magic Quadrant for Third-Party Logistics, Worldwide report in which UPS SCS has been named a Leader and follows last year's announcement of UPS SCS's position as a Leader in the May 2019 Gartner Magic Quadrant for Third-Party Logistics, North America.

Gartner's Magic Quadrant evaluates third-party logistics providers on their "completeness of vision and ability to execute" and places them in one of four quadrants: Niche Players, Visionaries, Challengers or Leaders. Gartner defines a Leader as those that "execute well against their current vision and are well positioned for tomorrow."*

"We are honored to have been named a Leader in the 2020 Magic Quadrant for Third-Party Logistics, Worldwide," said Philippe Gilbert, president of UPS Supply Chain Solutions. "Based on our strategic growth plan, UPS SCS is well positioned to provide our customers with innovative solutions across the end-to-end supply chain now and in the future."

UPS SCS operates more than 1,000 distribution facilities and a multi-modal freight and brokerage network that serves 220+ countries. Through continuous innovation and implementation of leading technologies, UPS SCS strives to create end-to-end solutions that help businesses grow.
